

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

At least the deviation on a pixel having a value deviating from a predetermined range through inverse transform of image data from a frequency domain
5 is reduced, wherein a pixel which should have a value changed in a direction reverse to the deviation is determined based on a character of the inverse transform.

10082308.022502